

Local News & Notices.

THE WEATHER.

The Weather at Boston, on Monday and yesterday morning was bitter cold. The mercury in the thermometer at sunrise yesterday morning, in the city stood at 4 degrees below zero.

The cold was felt with the utmost severity in New York, on Monday night. Yesterday the ferry boats were all frozen in, since 11, and thousands of foot passengers crossed on the ice bridge. Thermometer at Brooklyn, at 7 o'clock, on Saturday morning, was 12 degrees below zero. The snow, however, moved in the East River about 12 o'clock yesterday, while many people were on it, crossing to Brooklyn. Several persons were carried down to the bay, where they were rescued in boats.

The snow which fell on Sunday and Monday, disengaged the trains on all the railroads.

The train from Portland, due in this city Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, over the Eastern Railroad, did not arrive until 7 o'clock yesterday morning. The train was delayed on account of the heavy fall of snow on the track.—Boston Journal.

At Albany the thermometer ranged from 6 to 4 degrees above zero all day on Sunday, and a fine, glorious snow continued to fall all day, but accumulated only about an inch in depth. The wind was north, and take the day through it is pronounced the coldest of the season. On Monday the Railroad trains from the West, South and East, all failed to reach Albany, owing to the heavy fall of snow, which blocked up all the roads leading out of the city.

At Hartford, Conn., the storm commenced on Sunday morning, with a high N. E. wind, and continued for about two hours, when the snow ceased.

On Monday morning the thermometer stood at 10 degrees; at 2 P. M., 13 degrees; at 5 P. M., 8 degrees; at 10 P. M., 3 degrees above zero; and on Monday morning, 5 degrees above.

The usual temperature of snow storms here is from 28 to 30 degrees."

In New York, it commenced on Saturday night about midnight, and was accompanied as it was here, with a severely cold wind. It continued to rage all day on Sunday, and until Monday morning. The snow fell very hard, an average depth of about six feet, and in some places was considerably drifted. In the Bay, the snow was severely felt, and several vessels were driven ashore at Staten Island.

The Philadelphia New American says—We have not had so deep and disagreeable a snow storm for some years past. All the avenues of travel are blocked up, and communication with the neighboring cities rendered very difficult."

At Washington there was a heavy fall of snow on Sunday, and on Monday there was fine shooting; the thermometer, on Monday morning at 7 o'clock, standing only seven degrees above zero. The cars that left Washington at a o'clock on Monday morning, reached Baltimore until 10 o'clock on Monday morning, in consequence of the severe snow storm.

On Tuesday evening, Jan. 20th.—Accidents on the East River.—A large number of persons were rescued from floating ice in the East River, this morning. Many persons were precipitated into the water, but up to this time no persons are reported lost.

Accident of Cora.—The train that left Dundalk, on the Erie Railroad, on Sunday night, reached here this forenoon, being delayed by the inclemency of the weather. About 400 passengers were enroute.

The engineer Daniel Webster was unable to bring his dock in consequence of the sea, after his passengers were all on board, and suffered much from the cold.

The lower Bay is nearly one solid mass of ice, and is almost impossible for a vessel to get out or in.

Philadelphia, Jan. 20th.—The ice in the Delaware this morning was so thick that passengers walked across to Camden.

Hartford, Jan. 20th.—The Democratic State Rights Convention, at Mobile, have passed resolutions denouncing the Compromise measures but refusing to give up their delegates to the National Convention, in order to secure the adoption of the Constitution for the Presidency.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Postmaster is forward, and the Southern members are received via the cars.

Greenwich, Jan. 20th.—The records of the Georgetown College show this winter to be the coldest in this region since 1815, and last night the coldness of the season.

Hartford, Jan. 20th.—At sunrise to-day the thermometer was 4 degrees below zero. The weather this evening, however, has slightly moderated. Communication in every direction terminated.

New Orleans, Jan. 20th.—Advice from Vera Cruz to the 14th are received. The disturbances at the cities of Mexico, Puebla, and other places, have been fully suppressed, and the country is now in the hands of the legislative body.

The morning was the coldest for 30 years past, the thermometer being only 15 degrees above zero.

S. Louis, Jan. 21.—The weather has moderated, and the ice has broken up. No boats have, however, been able to leave.

Syracuse, Jan. 20.—The snow at Tallahassee, Florida, is two inches deep.

Baltimore, Jan. 21.—The Senate of Alabama has passed a resolution approving the votes of their Senators in Congress. Wm. R. King and Jernough Clemens, on the Compromise measures; and they declare that those measures are to be regarded as a final settlement. They also passed a resolution deprecating the spirit of interference in European politics, and declaring it the duty of the United States to cultivate good will with all nations.

Hartford, Jan. 21.—It has been proposed in the Legislature, to inquire into the expediency of providing by law for the removal of free negroes.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.

The Boston Advertiser says—The Southern members of the Constitutional Convention will be seated at the head of the table.

The weather is most intensely cold, the thermometer indicating 8 degrees below zero. The passengers for Norfolk take the cars at Amherst, and thence proceed by steamboat, the ice preventing the boat from coming to the wharf.